

8.8 erase Training Guidelines for Principals

Principals should ensure that their school-based behaviour and digital threat assessment management (BDTAM) team members have up to date BDTAM training.

School-based BDTAM teams will consist of the school principal and at least two additional members. These members should include the school counsellors and a lead teacher. In the case of a small rural school, in addition to the principal, the BDTAM team member may be the school and family consultant.

School principals will maintain Advanced BDTAM training, current within two years. All other members of the BDTAM team must have Basic BDTAM training but may be trained at a higher level.

For more information, refer to the erase website.